

QUALITY AND ENVIRONMENT

Efficient processes and reliable products are not the only parameters used to evaluate a company's conduct: today, in fact, the capacity of the company and its management team to design and implement production processes that are sustainable from an environmental point of view are of equal importance.

Production processes and management systems that are verified, monitored and certified.

Sustainable production plants and processes, use of renewable energies, sustainability of resources.

Products that are verified, monitored and certified by recognized certification bodies.

Recyclable products and low impact production processes in line with the Green Building principles.
